

Year 10 - How to understand your child's report on Wise.

All students in the school are given highly aspirational year 11 target grades. These target grades are based on how well students performed in year 6 SAT's examinations. It is possible to look at national data and determine what grade would be expected at GCSE level for a child that began secondary school at a certain level, this would be average attainment.

At Wombourne High School, and within the Invictus Trust, we look for much greater than average attainment, and therefore target grades are approximately one grade higher than average attainment. The year 11 target grades are therefore termed aspirational targets, as there is real challenge within them.

Students are assessed termly on how well they are progressing towards aspirational target grades.

Below is an example of what a report will look like in year 10.
